

Introducing Couples to a Friendly Church

Supporting couples (Hereford)

Support for couples who move to other areas of the UK & Ireland

Couples often marry at a church away from the area where they will be living, perhaps returning to their parents' or childhood church for their big day.

To help the couple settle into their own home church, Mothers' Union members based at the church where the couple will be marrying, get in touch, with the couple's permission, with people at what will be the couple's new local church, to identify someone who will extend to the couple a warm welcome.

(This initiative is also part of the Cana Ministry run by Mothers' Union in the Diocese of Hereford).

For general guidelines about setting up and developing outreach initiatives, go to the members' section of the Mothers' Union website www.themothersunion.org
